How a dialysis machine works

1. Blood is pumped out of a patient, often via an arteriovenous fistula.
2. An anticoagulant is added to prevent the blood from clotting.
4. Blood is pumped back into the body.